Shreemathe Ranga Ramanuja Maha Desikayanamaha:

Performing 'Sandhyavandanam' is essential qualification to approve any brahmin as a 'Brahmin'. Perhaps this had been forgotten or not given importance by our own people for the past few decades. It is needless to go into reasons for this, but the fact remains. Fortunately a kind of resurgence has taken place among our youngsters, particularly who are to interact with other religious systems abroad in this regard. However it is a welcome change. Shree. Sundhar Kidambi is a young man hailing from a most revered family. By the benign grace of 'Acarya Padhukas' and most revered Acharya His Holiness Shrirangam Shreemath Andavan(Shreemushnam), Shree. Sundhar has chosen to publish a book on 'Yajurvedha Sandhyavandanam' in English. His Holiness Shreemath Andavan feels that this is the right effort at the most appropriate time. Such books are sure to make youngsters interested in performing daily routines ordained by our ancestors. His Holiness blesses this effort and wishes our young people are benefited by this excellent work.

*By order from.
His Holiness Shrirangam Shreemath Andavan.*

With respectful praṇāms to my ācāryas and pūrvācāryas, I wish to place on record my heartfelt gratitude to all those who helped me in bringing out this book.

My father Sriman Kidambi Sreenivasachar has tirelessly worked to coordinate the efforts in proofreading this document. He has personally visited each of the volunteers and handed a copy of this document for proofreading. The volunteers, in turn, have kindly provided me their feedback on the contents and presentation of this document. From time to time he collected the updates from them to make sure that the proofreading is done in a stipulated amount of time. He has spent several hours organizing the comments from the volunteers to present them to me in a concise form over the telephone. To my father, I am deeply indebted for the interest and help he has rendered in my endeavor to bring out this book on the occasion of the upanayanam of my sons Chi. Mukund Kidambi and Chi. Sriram Kidambi.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to my brother Sriman Raghavan Kidambi, my sister-in-law Srimati Mythili Raghavan and my nephew Chi. Mohan Kidambi who have worked with the publishers to get this document printed. They have also been instrumental in requesting the graceful presence of His Holiness Śrī Raṅgapriya Mahādeśikan by arranging a anugraha bhāṣaṇam by Him on the occasion of the upanayanam. Mohan has designed the cover page for this book and I wish to sincerely thank him for his time and effort.

My sincere thanks to Sriman H.R. Krishnaswamy who has tirelessly and meticulously gone through the document to point out mistakes that are difficult to find with a casual reading. I would like to express my gratitude to Sriman Dr. Kidambi Rajagopalan, my uncle, who has provided feedback and suggestions to improve the presentation of this document. I would also like to recognize and thank the efforts of Sriman C.S. Gopalachar and Sriman Dr. C.R. Ramaswamy who have provided some insightful suggestions.

No amount of thanks is enough to express my gratitude to Dr. Parthasarathy Desikan for the help he has rendered. While he has proofread this document and given suggestions to improve it, I would like to place on record my very sincere and heartfelt thanks for all the help he has rendered so far in terms of proofreading various documents on our website <http://www.prapatti.com>. He has never hesitated in rendering his help whenever I have asked.

I would like to offer my sincere thanks to Sriman R. Rajagopal of Aravind Laboratories, Chennai, popularly known as RR Mama, for requesting the Śrīmukham from His Holiness Śrī Raṅgarāmānujamahādeśikan on my behalf. I also thank him for scanning the Śrīmukham and sending it to me by electronic mail.

Last, but not the least, my heartfelt thanks to my older son Chi. Mukund Kidambi for all the help with the photographs in this document and my wife Smt. Rama Kidambi for making all this happen.

॥ अभिमुखम् ॥
॥ abhimukham ॥
(Foreword)

God is the absolute reality endowed with all auspicious and excellent attributes. He is the inner controller of all cit (beings) and acit (matter). The jīvātman enters the physical body appropriate to its past karma (actions) and transmigrates in the cycle of births and deaths (saṁsāra). God, out of compassion for the souls, bestows vedic knowledge through brahma and a lineage of saints and sages. The vedas discuss the nature of God, nature of souls, causes of saṁsāra and ways to get out of it.

Vedas prescribe several duties for individual souls to come out of this saṁsāra. They are classified as nitya karmās, or daily duties, and naimittika karmās, or occasional duties. The much extolled sandhyāvandana comes under nitya karma, or daily duties. We have ample references regarding sandhyāvandana in vedas, smṛtis, rāmāyaṇa, mahābhārata and viṣṇu purāṇa. The reference to sandhyāvandana in kṛṣṇa yajurveda is as follows

उद्यन्तमस्तं यन्तमादित्यमभिध्यायन्कुर्वन्ब्राह्मणो विद्वान्सकलं भद्रमश्नुते- ऽसावादित्यो ब्रह्मेति ब्रह्मैव सन्ब्रह्माप्येति य एवं वेद ॥ udyantāmastam yantamādityam abhidhyāyankurvanbrahmaṇo vidvānthsakalam bhadramaśnute'sāvādityo brahmeti brah-maiva sanbrahmāpyeti ya evaṁ vedā ॥

The procedure of worship ordained here is by offering arghya at the time of sunrise and sunset while meditating on āditya (sun god) and chanting gāyatrī.

Aditya represents pure satva characteristics and it is He who looks after the health of the entire world. The individual soul is enveloped with rajo guṇa and tamo guṇa. These adverse vices can be wiped out by offering arghya to the Almighty God in the form of sun and meditating on gāyatrī.

Worship through arghya is a process by which āditya within us can be invoked and whose qualities can be acquired. Vedas declare that āditya in the sky and the āditya within our body is one and the same. The vedic statement runs like this.

स य एषोऽन्तर्हृदय आकाशः ।
sa ya eṣo'ntarhṛdaya ākāśaḥ ।

स यश्चायं पुरुषे । यश्चासावादित्ये । स एकः ।
sa yaścāyaṁ puruṣe । yaścāsāvāditye । sa ekaḥ ।

Therefore, offering arghya definitely has the effect on one who offers it.

Taittirīyopaniṣad also says

मन्देहाऽरुणे द्वीपे प्रक्षिपन्ति यत्प्रदक्षिणं ...
mandehā'rūṇe dvīpe prakṣipanti yatprādakṣiṇaṁ ...

The meaning is that the arghya offered from the palms of the worshipper destroys demons known as mantehās attacking the sun. This statement in the veda has a great significance.

Vedas are referred to as trayī, that is, vedic statements have three meanings, namely, external, internal and philosophical. Among them, the philosophical meaning is important. The element of sun in our body is clouded by our rajo guṇa and tamo guṇa. The arghya offered at the feet of āditya at sunrise and sunset will help free the individual soul from the above-mentioned evil qualities. The word in the vedic statement mantehās refers to the devils in our body. Isāvāsya upaniṣad of śukla yajurveda and chāndogya upaniṣad refer to āditya vidyā, that is, sandhyāvandana.

The entire process of sandhyāvandana is centered around arghya pradāna and gāyatrī japa. In addition to this, ācamana, mārjana, āsana, prāṇāyāma and upasthāna are also important.

The gāyatrī mantra is a very powerful one. All vedas extol the efficacy of gāyatrī mantra. There is no vedic yāga in which this great mantra is not used. This mantra has the efficacy of destroying all types of sins and bestows all auspicious things. This definitely protects the chanter. She is the mother of all mantras. The essence of jagatī and triṣṭup chandas is included in gāyatrī. She is the embodiment of Almighty Himself. Sandhyāvandana includes āditya vidya and gāyatrī japa. Through this japa of gāyatrī, one can attain liberation. By performing sandhyāvandana at the stipulated period, one gets brahma sāyujyam. Thus says veda.

Acharya Saṅkara extols the gāyatrī japa in many places. The guruparamparā, a biographical work of śrīvaiṣṇava ācāryas, records that ācārya rāmānuja was offering arghya in sandhyāvandana being supported by two persons even at the ripe age of 120.

Sunder Kidāmbi, the author of this book, yajurveda kālātraya sandhyāvandanam, is born in the lineage of Śrī Kidāmbi Acān who was serving Bhagavad Rāmānuja as his cook. The great preceptor of Śrī Vedānta Deśika, that is, Atreya Rāmānuja, also belongs to this great lineage. The illustrious Śrī Arasāṅipālai Venkaṭādhvari, a 16th century poet, who wrote works like Viśvaguṇadarśa Campu, Śrī Rāghavayāda-vīyam and Śrī Lakṣmīsahasram is a beacon in this lineage. Sunder Kidāmbi is a blessed person who has written this beautiful handbook on sandhyāvandana that is very informative and contains all important aspects of sandhyāvandana in detail. For those who desire to obtain the grace of the Almighty, performance of sandhyāvandana is essential. In this direction, Sunder Kidāmbi has rendered yeoman service to devotees who desire to perform sandhyāvandana. Let all auspicious blessings come to Sunder Kidāmbi by the grace of Divya Dampatīs Śrī Lakṣmīnārāyaṇa.

॥ prastāvanā ॥
(Introduction)

सन्ध्याहीनोऽशुचिर्नित्यं अनर्हस्सर्व कर्मसु।
यदन्यत् कुरुते कर्म न तस्य फलभाग्भवेत् ॥ sandhyāhīno'śucirnityaṃ anarhassarva karmasu। yadanyat kurute karma na tasya phalabhāgbhavet ॥

He who does not perform sandhyāvandanam every day is ever impure and, consequently, unfit to perform any vedic rites. Whatever other rites he may perform, he will not obtain the fruit thereof.

Duties prescribed to individuals in vedas are classified as nitya karmā, or daily duties, and naimittika karmā, or occasional duties. Sandhyāvandanam is a nitya karmā and, hence, has to be performed daily. It is, in fact, to be performed at the appropriate times as bhagavadājñā kaiṅkaryam, that is, as a matter of service rendered to God by way of obeying His command. In viṣṇu dharma, Lord viṣṇu says

श्रुतिः स्मृतिः ममैवाज्ञा यस्यां उल्लङ्घ्य वर्तते।
आज्ञाच्छेदी मम द्रोही मद्भक्तोपि न वैष्णवः ॥

śrutih smṛtiḥ mamaivājñā yasyāṃ ullāṅghya vartate। ājñācchedī mama drohī madbhaktopi na vaiṣṇavaḥ ॥

The vedas and the treatises thereunder, that is, smṛtis, convey My commands. Whoever violates them, commits treason. Even if he be My devotee, he is by no means a vaiṣṇava.

Sandhyāvandanam refers to the worship of sun during sandhyā, the meeting point of day and night, and, fore and after noon. The prayer at sunrise is called prātaḥ sandhyāvandanam, that at noon is called mādhyāhnika sandhyāvandanam, and that at sunset is called sāyaṃ sandhyāvandanam. Thus, sandhyāvandanam is performed three times in a day.

The benefits of prātaḥ sandhyāvandanam are most (or maximum) when performed before sunrise and stars are visible, average when performed before sunrise but stars have disappeared, poor after sunrise, as described by the following verse.

उत्तमा तारकोपेता मध्यमा लुप्ततारका ।
अधमा सूर्यसहिता प्रातः सन्ध्या त्रिधा स्मृता ॥

uttamā tārakopetā madhyamā luptatārakā |
adhamā sūryasahitā prātaḥ sandhyā tridhā smṛtā ॥

For mādhyāhnika sandhyāvandanam, it is best when the sun is right above your head at noon, as described by

मध्याह्ने मध्यभास्कराम् ।
madhyāhne madhyabhāskarām |

Similarly for sāyaṃ sandhyāvandanam, it is best before sunset, average after sunset but before stars appear and poor after stars appear, as described by the following verse.

उत्तमा सूर्यसहिता मध्यमा लुप्तभास्करा ।
अधमा तारकोपेता सायं सन्ध्या त्रिधा स्मृता ॥

uttamā sūryasahitā madhyamā luptabhāskarā |
adhamā tārakopetā sāyaṃ sandhyā tridhā smṛtā ॥

Ideally, the prātaḥ sandhyāvandanam should be started before sunrise and concluded at sunrise. Similarly the sāyaṃ sandhyāvandanam should be started before sunset and concluded at sunset (local time). These timings are from considerations of maximum benefit. However, it is important to note that benefits will be there even when there are departures and this has been recognized in the smṛtis. As a part of sandhyāvandanam, mantras associated with atonement are incorporated by way of prāyaścitta arghyam. Every individual, who has undergone upanayanam, the sacred thread ceremony, should therefore strive to perform sandhyāvandanam at a time as close to sunrise or sunset as possible but should not give it up due to circumstances. A person who is unwell can also perform sandhyāvandanam mentally without water. In the event of long journeys when it is inconvenient to perform sandhyāvandanam, the entire procedure can be done mentally, irrespective of the dress one is wearing. This is called mānasika sandhyāvandanam. Also, in the present-day world we are in, it is sometimes not practical to perform mādhyāhnika sandhyāvandanam at the prescribed time and place. In such circumstances, mādhyāhnika sandhyāvandanam can be performed soon after prātaḥ sandhyāvandanam.

Each sandhyāvandanam is done after taking a normal bath of pouring adequate amount of water over your body, from head to foot. This is called vāruṇa snānam. Although there are other forms of physical baths recognized in the vedas, there is also one that can be performed mentally without water. This is called mānasika snānam. In the present-day world, it may not be practical to perform vāruṇa snānam before each sandhyāvandanam. In such circumstances, mānasika snānam can be substituted. For mānasika snānam, mentally comprehend the Lotus Feet of the Lord and imagine that the sacred water of the virajā (heavenly river) from His feet flowing all over your body. Recite the hymn below and sprinkle water over your head.

अपवित्रः पवित्रो वा सर्वावस्थां गतोऽपि वा ।

यः स्मरेत् पुण्डरीकाक्षं स बाह्याभ्यन्तरः शुचिः ॥

*apavitraḥ pavitro vā sarvāvasthāṃ gato'pi vā |
yaḥ smaret puṇḍarikākṣaṃ sa bāhyābhyantaraḥ śuciḥ ||*

As mentioned earlier, sandhyāvandanam is performed by an individual after upanayanam which is a vedic ritual that includes wearing of yagnopavītam, the sacred thread, and initiation into the gāyatrī mantram. The term upanayanam consists of two words, namely, upa, meaning near, and nayanam, meaning to fetch. The significance of the term upanayanam is that a teacher leads, or initiates the student towards the enquiry into the nature of brahman, or the Supreme Deity. To denote the importance of this aspect of the upanayanam sacrament, it is sometimes called brahmopadeśam, even though it is just one of the events in the upanayanam ceremony. The sacred function of upanayanam is an important milestone in the life of the student, namely, it initiates him towards the study of the vedas. According to the vedas and smṛtis, the prescribed age of upanayanam for brāhmins is seven. The age, however, should not exceed sixteen in any case.

Gāyatrī mantra has been bestowed the greatest importance in vedic dharma. It is the most hallowed mantra of the vedas and is considered the mother of all mantras. The performance of gāyatrī japam, which is an integral part of sandhyāvandanam, protects the individuals from the malefic effects of sins and expiation. It is a prayer to the sun god to alleviate one from all human sins and to bestow knowledge, health and longevity. According to Parāśara, one who performs gāyatrī japam with devotion becomes pure and gets liberated. A person who does not recite the gāyatrī mantram cannot be considered to be a brāhmin, even if he has read the vedas, śāstras and purāṇas. Amongst the many definitions of gāyatrī, one of it is

गायन्तं त्रायते इति गायत्री
gāyantam trāyate iti gāyatrī which means that it is one which protects the person who chants or recites it.

Lord viṣṇu is also called yajñah, as the yajñas, the sacrificial rites, are all dedicated to Him. The word upavītam means that which surrounds. Consequently, the word yajñopavītam is a thread that surrounds Lord viṣṇu, the in-dweller or antaryāmi. In light of this, the yajñopavītam can be viewed as the thread that goes round the heart-region (which is the seat of antaryāmi) over the left shoulder down to the navel and back to the left shoulder via the back. The yajñopavītam comprises of three strands knotted together. This symbolizes the conjunction of the three fundamental entities, namely, cit, (the sentient being - individual soul) acit (the non-sentient matter - body) and īśvara (the in-dweller) in an inseparable combination. The ends of the knot of the yajñopavītam should point upwards to signify the final goal in view, namely, ascent to the Lotus Feet of Lord viṣṇu in His transcendental abode. In addition, it should be close to the heart, the seat of antaryāmi.

We are happy to release this book on the occasion of the upanayanam of our sons Chi. Mukund Kidambi and Chi. Sriram Kidambi on June 18, 2007 in the auspicious presence of His Holiness Śrī Raṅgapriyā Mahādeśikan svāmi. In this book, we have provided a fairly detailed procedure for performing yajurveda kālatraya sandhyāvandanam, that is, the sandhyāvandanam during three times of the day. It is certainly not a substitute for learning the sandhyāvandanam under an ācārya or a qualified teacher. The intention of this book is to serve more as a memorabilia than a guide, although one could benefit from the procedures pertaining to sandhyāvandanam performed during the three times of the day and mantrās presented here with proper accents.

गायत्री जपम्

gāyatrī japam

Cover both your hands with the upper cloth you are wearing, join your hands and bring them to the level of your navel. Open your palms such that they face you, as shown in Figure 21(a). Recite the following gāyatrī mantram as many as times as resolved in the saṅkalpam in Section 12. The counting is done with fingers on both your hands in the following way. The left hand is used for counting the units while the right hand is used for counting the tens. The counting on the left hand is shown in Figure 21(b). The counting is done in a similar way in your right hand.

(a) Posture for gāyatrī japam

(According to some, upper cloth rests on the left shoulder.)

(b) Counting procedure for gāyatrī japam

अष्टाक्षर जपम्

 15 *****

aṣṭākṣara japam

The items in this Section is applicable to people who have undergone samāśrayaṇam under an ācārya. Recite the taniyans of your ācārya paramparā. Now, do the prāṇāyamam as described in Section 2 with the aṣṭākṣara mantram instead of the prāṇāyāma mantram. This is performed three times. Then, follow the items presented in Table 65.

Action	Mantra to recite
Touch top of the head with right fingers	श्रीमदष्टाक्षर महामन्त्रस्य बदरिकाश्रमवासी श्रीमन्नारायण ऋषिः śrīmadaṣṭākṣara mahāmantrasya badarikāśramavāsī śrīmannārāyaṇa ṛṣiḥ
Touch tip of the nose with right fingers	देवी गायत्री छन्दः devī gāyatrī chandaḥ

Now, recite the aṣṭākṣara mantram as many times as resolved for gāyatrī japam.

गायत्री उद्वासनम्	 16 	gāyatrī udvāsanam
-------------------	----------------	-------------------

Perform prāṇāyāmaṃ as described in Section 2, three times. Come to the saṅkalpam posture as mentioned in Section 3 and recite

श्री भगवदाज्ञया श्रीमन्नारायण प्रीत्यर्थं सायं सन्ध्या उपस्थानं करिष्ये।

śrī bhagavadājñayā śrīmannārāyaṇa prītyartham sāyaṃ sandhyā upasthānaṃ kariṣye।

Stand up and follow the items presented in Table 66.

Action	Mantra to recite
